Eulogy for an Imperfect Man
Poems
Maureen A. Sherbondy

Eulogy for an Imperfect Man: Poems by Maureen A. Sherbondy

Brick Road Poetry Press
15.95, paperback
ISBN: 978-0-983535304-3-5
March, 2013
Poetry
Available from the publisher (Pre-order and shipping is free)

"These are poems as restless as the ghosts that pass from page to page, and they'll haunt you long after you leave the last line. Sherbondy's stark images are as true as her unflinching examination of our struggle to put the dead to rest and let our pasts be past."
—Barbara Presnell, Piece Work

Maureen Sherbondy's books are After the Fairy Tale , Praying at Coffee Shops , The Slow Vanishing ,

Weary Blues
, and
Scar Girl
. She recently won the Spring Garden Press Robert Watson Poetry Award for
The Year of Dead Fathers
. The book will be published this summer. Her full-length collection, Eulogy for an Imperfect Man, is forthcoming from Brick Road Poetry Press. Her fiction has been nominated for a Pushcart Prize. She received an MFA from Queens University of Charlotte. Maureen lives in Raleigh with her three sons.